Full Authority Given Him by the Dewager Empress—Japanese and British Troops Escort Him—Foreign Ministers Agree to Meet Him Individually—London "Times" Attacks Li Hung (hang Again.

Special Cable Despatches to THE SUN.

From a Staff Correspondent of THE SUN. PERIN, Sept. 4, via Chefoo, Sept. 10 .- Prince Ching arrived here at 3:30 o'clock yesterday Sternoon, escorted by Japanese and British troops. He is living in his residence in the northeastern part of the Tartar City. It is known that he has instructions from settlement of all the questions after his arrival Prince Ching asked to meet the Diplomatic Corps. He was informed that | procession of the military and the Ministers the Ministers would meet him individually. He had an interview to-day with Sir Robert Hart, Director of the Imperial Maritime Cus toms, regarding the situation.

LONDON, Sept. 12 - A despatch from Pekin dated Sept 4 says that Prince Ching had an interview with Sir Robert Hart, the Imperial Commissioner of Maritime Customs. The result of the interview has not been announced. Prince Ching has the same powers to settle the present troubles as Prince Kung had in 1860.

overrule this young man."
It is again rumored that the Empress Dowager is in the Province of Shansl and the Japanese troops are pursuing the Imperial party.

The Times correspondent in Pekin complains that Li Hung Chang is apparently endeavoring to gull Europe. He says that when the Viceroy wished to come north he did not invoke the assistance of the diplomatic body, but appealed as the friend of Russia to the Russian Minister. Continuing, he says:

The impassioned speech of the German Emperor when his troops were leaving was read with enthusiasm, but this feeling is marred by the knowledge that he is still permitting the Chinese Minister to remain accredited to his court. The Emperor now knows that his Minister was murdered on June 20, not in the street by brigands, but by an Imperial officer acting under Imperial orders. It has been discovered that the Dowager Empress and Prince Tuan had planned the massacre on that fatal morning of all the foreign Ministers. Whatever else is done, all the civilized Powers must insist upon the final removal from all power of the Dowager Empress and the execution of Prince Tuan and other high officers all well known, who led the Boxers and directed the murders of white men, women and children helpless in the interior, and treacherously attempted to massacre the women and children in the legations.

"Meanwhile a famine is inevitable. The country is despoiled of foodstuffs, and it is certain that a great belt of famine will encircle Pekin this winter. The tribute of rice, which should be sent now, is prevented from coming. Our Government will have to decide quickly if the British troops are to remain through the

It is said here that the Chinese Government may object to having the treaty made in Pekin, as traditions call for dealing with foreigners at the gates or at an outside city. The Powers may be willing to hold the conference at Tientsin or Shanghai, but it is thought here they wil insist on having the assurances given by China signed in the most sacred precincts of Pekin. This is a matter of official opinion here, however, as is everything which bears upon an international agreement and the manner of carrying out its purposes. It may be said upon the highest authority, however, that the moment this Government finds that its interests will be better conserved by prompt independent action the United States will act alone. Everything ready for such action to be taken at once. The correspondence includes a cable message from LA Hung Chang, dated Sept. 9, transmitted by the Chinese Minister at London to Minister Wu Envoy Plenipotentiary, Grand Secretary of State and Viceroy of Chihli.

"On the 3d day of the 8th moon of Kwang-Hsu, 26th year (Aug. 27), the following Imperial edict was issued:
""We hereby command Li Hung Chang. Envoy Plenipotentiary, with full discretionary powers and Grand Secretary of State, to proceed at once by steam vessel to Pekin and there to associate himself with Prince Ching in discussing and dealing with all pending questions. Let there be no delay. Respect this."

"The above has been communicated to me in obedience to the Innerial will."

Another communication from the Privy Council states that an edict has already been issued commanding Sir Robert Hart to confer with the representatives of) the foreign nations for the loan of a steam vessel to convey Li flung Chang, without delay to Pekin, where he is to associate himself with Prince Ching in dealing with all pending questions. There was also a copy of an edict for Li flung Chang, in which the Inspector General of Customs (Sir Robert Hart) was directed to depute an official to deliver in person (to Earl Li).

Earl Li's message concludes:

"Having received Imperial orders urging my speedy departure for the North, it behoves me to make arrangements to start on my journey soon. Please inform Secretary of State and request instructions be telegraphed to the United States commanders at Tientsin and Pekin to cooperate in affording me protection if required."

can ship will be put at Earl Li's service if this is asked.

The State Department announces that a cablegram has been received from Consulgeneral Goodnow, dated Shanghai, Sept. 12, saying that Li Hung Chang will go to Tientsin from that place on Friday.

There is still much disorder in four provinces of China, involving the destruction of American missionaries and property that this Government was forced to require of Li Hung Chang when advised of his credentials two days ago, that he "give assurances without further delay that the life and property of Americans will henceforth be respected throughout the Chinese Empire, before the United State shall "feel called upon to express any opinion" as to the sufficiency of his authority. The force of this reply of the United States has been generally overlooked, as it was thought to be simply a reiteration of a demand for the future made in the note of July 3. While this is true, it is also a demand made for the present, and both Minister Wu and Earl Li so understand it.

Li Hung Chang has not advised this Govern-eat, and both Minister Wu and Earl Li so understand it.

Li Hung Chang has not advised this Government as yet what steps he has taken to suppress rioters, marauders and the mobs that are infesting interior China, and menacing Shanghai itself, but it is understood that he has issued a proclamation so threatening to the disturbers that he will be able to assure the United States shortly that they have been put down and punished. Earl Li's "you know me," as it is called here, is expected to have an immediate good effect. The Chinese fear and respect him, and when he promises them he will cut their heads off nobody doubts his word. It is pointed out here officially, that as anxious as the authorities are to hasten peace negotiations, it would be cowardly to sign a peace convention while American lives and property were being destroyed. This must cease and the Chinese Government must show its good will through Earl Li by taking steps to punish offenders and to bring disorder to an end.

There was a strong wind blowing in the morning and quite a sea was running. This wind increased in force so that about noon Capt. Wringe decided that it would be better to run to a safer harbor. The Mineola came up the bay under a storm jib and anchored in the upper harbor.

According to the programme issued by the Regatta Committee the start will be made at 11:30 o'clock off the Sandy Hook Hook Lightship if feasible. The preparatory signal will be the blue peter and ten minutes later the starting signal will be made. The yachts will be allowed three minutes to cross the line. Two courses have been selected. One, which will be signalised by the flag for the letter C. a red bail in a white triangle, is fifteen miles to windward or leeward and return. The second course for which the signal will be the flag for the letter D. a white bail on a blue triangle, is seven and one-half niles to windward and return salled twice over. The compass courses will be signalled at the time the course selected is announced. If it is necessary to postpone the start a preliminary signal will be made fifteen minutes before the preparatory signal is made. The race must be sailed within six and a half hours and if the yachts fail to finish in that time another attempt will be made to sail the race to-morrow, and the attempts will be made each day except Sunday until the race is completed. The tail-end of the West Indian storm struck Lenox this morning, and the match play for the Lenox cup was played in a stiff northwest gale. The wind blew steadily from the opening of the tournament to-day to the close. It was gusty, and this upset the best of calculations regarding the play. The wind made low scores impossible in medal play. Despite the severity of the wind there was keen golf played by those who were in the Lenox cup contest. With the exception of two pairs in the morning play the men were not a hole apart at the eighteenth hole, and in two instances it was necessary to play nineteen holes to decide the match. The feature of the day was the holing out of F. Jacques by a 75-yard approach on the seventh green. In the drive Jacques sliced into the woods. He got out handily, the ball reaching the green and running out into the cup. This won him his match with Johnstone. The Consolation cup was won this afternoon by Alexander Morton. The results of match play for the Lenox cup to-day were:

S. Frotbingham beat F. L. Amory, 3 up. 2 to play: A. J. Wellington beat John Moller, Jr., 5 up. 4 to

To THE EDITOR OF THE SUN-Sit: It seems to be the general opinion that the playing of Harry Vardon'r nd J. H. Taylor in the open champtonship may curful the entries and possibly destroy the interest on the part of resident professionals in the tournament. In order to serve as an inducement to to them to enter Mr. A. G. Spaiding has cabled me to offer a purse of $150 and a $50 golf medal for the best score made by any player other than Vardon or Taylor, Yours truly, Newport, Sept. 12—The finals in the mixed foursomes on the Newport links for the cups offered by Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer were played to-day. The conditions were against good golf, and no attempt was made at keeping cards. The result of the play was: Mrs. Royal Phelps Carroll and Victor Sorchan beat Miss Eunice Terry and Woodbury Kane, 7 up and 6 to play. On Saturday the members of the club will play for the Count of Turin cup, the conditions being thirty-six holes, the handicap limited to eighteen strokes.

MANCHESTER-BY-THE-SEA, Mass., Sept. 12.—
Harry Vardon defeated Joseph Llovo, ex-professional champion and John Dingwall, by one up in a 3d-lole best hall golf contest on the links of the E-sex County Club to-day. It was an exciting contest, the last ball at the last hole making it a win for Vardon. Loyd should have made the game even up, for he was on the last green 245 yards in 2, but poor work with the futter allowed Vardon to halve the hole in 5, which gave Vardon the match, he being 1 up here. In the morning play of eighteen holes Vardon was 3 up.

The players were bothered by a northwest gale which prevailed. The wind at times carried the ball out of bounds. Vardon probably suffered most from this cause, although the short game of Lloyd and Dinswall was noticeably below Vardon's standard. In driving Vardon

Manager W. B. Shoemaker has appealed for funds to defray the expenses of the Columbia University football team until receipts are realized from games. He has sent a printed circular to every student and many alumni of columbia which reads in part: "To allow the football team to continue in training all expenses must be paid as soon as they are incurred. and as the heavy obligation of last year's tear has left us with an empty treasury funds must be secured at once." It will be remembered that although over $52,000 was received by the football management last season less than $1.000 was turned into the general athletic treasury as profit, and this was speedily consumed by other athletic interests. The enragement of professional trainers to assist Sanford in caring for the team will make the expenses for the period of preliminary practice uncommonly heavy, and as the students will not return to college until Oct. 1 the management will have its hands full to bridge over the temporary embarrassment which seems to be an ever-present element in Columbia sport. The situation is especially unpleasant since the formulation of the rule by the Faculty Committee on Athletics that "no team shall be permitted to continue in training when its liabilities exceed its cash assets by more than $500."

To partially alleviate the difficulty Manager Sheemaker has decided to put a modification of the Harvard season-ticket plan into operation at Columbia. A season ticket for all the home games will be issued for $5, which will enable the holder to witness the seven games penses for the period of preliminary practice winter in order to make preparations."

Withdrawal of Our Troops. WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 .- The first definite action looking to an early withdrawal of the American troops from Pekin was taken today by the War Department. Early this morning there was a conference between acting Secretary of War Meikleichn and Adjutant General Corbin regarding instructions to Gen.

This despatch is in exact accord with the developments of the past few days, and final instructions to Gen. Chaffee may be cabled him before the end of the week. For several days supplies and provisions for the troops in Pekin have been accumulating at Tientsin, and these instructions show that the Administration has reached the decision that the American troops are not to winter in Pekin.

ment does not wish to obstruct in any way any agreement for harmonious action in China. Earl Li's proceeding to Pekin is looked upon as encouraging and the State Department promised to-day that his progress thence from Shanghai should be facilitated. There will probably be a preliminary conference between Earl Li and Prince Ching and the foreign representatives in Pekin after his arrival. If the Powers by that time have agreed it will be an easy matter for them to arrange the manner and place of negotiating. Even though Earl Li may not be accepted at once by all the Powers, as peace envoy with full authority, he can be shoemaar has deathed to put a mostheathout of the Harvard season-ticket plan into operation at Columbia. A season ticket for all the home games will be issued for $5, which will enable the holder to witness the seven games on Columbia Field at a cost far below what he would be called upon to pay should he purchase single tickets for each game. These tickets will guarantee the holder to a seat in the north stand, which runs parallel to the griditron and commands a splendit view of each play. This plan was begun with some success by Manager Mitchell last year.

Now that Columbia Field is under the university's complete control, for a year at least, a new and fixed schedule of prices for seat at all games has been arranged. The management of alumni announce that the two grand stands on the south side of the field will be reserved at $2 and $1.50 and admission to the north stand and the two end stands will be $1 and 50 cents, respectively, for all games with the exception of the three more important contests with Yale, Princeton and the Carlisle for ians, that is, on Oct. 27, election day and Thanksgiving Day. For these games the north stand will be reserved at $1.50 and the two end stands sats will remain unchanged.

As the university faculty are of the opinion that college sports should not be made moneymaking institutions the new schedule of prices is based on the theory that the receipts at the home games will make the eleven self-supporting, while money received from other games can be turned to the use of such organizations as the crew, which makes no money of its own. All efforts will be used to keep tickets out of the hands of speculators, and they will for the first time be put on sale at all the leading hotels and ticket offices in the city.
